

What's next

The Nevins family has returned to Ecuador to begin construction on a Pastors' Training Center in Latacunga. The students in this school have a hunger for God's word that we seldom see. Some study by candle light, travel miles on foot, canoe and bus to reach their classes, yet have a burning desire to share the gospel and plant churches in still unreached areas.

The ministry we are doing the work for, Compassion Connection, is raising funds for the training center with a 10K "Walk for Ecuador" on February 19th, in Indio, CA and Quito, Ecuador. We encourage our Fuel Team to please consider participating by walking or sponsoring a walker at compassionconnection.net.

Note: the end of the year tax receipts have been mailed. If you did not receive yours or have a question please contact janet@fuelthemission.org

What's in the wings

Chris will be meeting with Dr. Jane Weaver the first week of February regarding an expansion of her clinic. The clinic is in the San Lorenzo, Ecuador (below), a town that sits on the border next to fuelthemission.org

Columbia. San Lorenzo is a poor and sometimes dangerous coastal town with many needs. Dr. Jane would like to add a bed wing to the existing clinic. Please pray about how we might help her as she carries God's light in a very dark place. Read more here.

Work team dates set!

Perhaps you would like to spearhead leading a team from your church? Register here. The cost is $725 pp, (for in-country expenses: ground transportation, meals, lodging, exit tax and materials). Airfare not included. The dates are:

June 17-26 (full!)

July 15-24 (open)

August 12-21 (open)

Prayers

A rental house near the project in Latacunga, Ecuador

God's provision for our work each month

That we would always bring Him glory

Praises

For all that pray and give to help Fuel the Mission!

We have had safe travels in the U.S.!

Provision has been made for our return trip expenses!

We are healthy and ready to start our next project!

